

THE ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE (ESL) BURSARY APPLICATION FORM

The English as a Second Language (ESL) Bursary is offered by the College of Graduate & Postdoctoral Studies (CGPS) as a support program for international graduate students who would like to strengthen their English skills by taking a course offered through the Language Centre. Please note that this bursary is available only to students currently registered in a graduate program at the University of Saskatchewan.

ESL bursaries are available for the following courses only:

- Advanced Writing & Applied Grammar
- Advanced Spoken English
- Pronunciation
- Graduate-Level Writing

There are two eligibility criteria used in awarding a student an ESL bursary:

- The applicant must meet the minimum English proficiency requirements at the University of Saskatchewan (applicant cannot have conditional holds on their admission due to language requirements).
- The applicant's graduate supervisor or Graduate Chair must recommend the applicant for an ESL class.

As well, the recipient of an ESL bursary must be registered as a full-time international graduate student in good standing at the University of Saskatchewan in a degree program to hold the bursary.

Note: ESL bursaries are not intended to be used by students who have been admitted conditionally and must satisfy a language requirement. As well, these bursaries will not be awarded to students who were exempted from the language requirements upon admission to the university.

There are a limited number of bursaries available for students. If there are more eligible students than the number of bursaries available, priority will be given to PhD students and to those students who have not received a bursary in a previous term.

The recipient of an ESL bursary will be required to pay a non-refundable administration fee of $25.00 to the Language Centre to take a placement test to ensure the recipient is placed in the appropriate course. The ESL bursary will be paid directly to the Language Centre by CGPS and will cover the cost of tuition for the assigned course only. The cost of textbooks and other class materials will be an additional cost to the student.

Questions and comments can be directed to gradstudies.awards@usask.ca.

Application Deadlines:

- Fall term (September – December) – August 1st annually
